BIOGRAPHY

Christopher Lee is a Partner at Everett Dorey's Orange County office and has extensive litigation success in state and federal courts, mediations and arbitrations throughout California representing property owners, developers, businesses, insurance carriers and public entities. He has extensive experience in several complex areas of law, including professional liability, toxic tort, chemical exposure, property management, employment law, product liability, personal injury and business litigation. Prior to joining Everett Dorey LLP, Chris represented some of the nation's largest corporations in complex litigation at an Am Law 200 law firm. He received a merit scholarship and obtained his law degree from USC. He received his Bachelor of Science degree and graduated with honors, magna cum laude, from UCLA. During law school, Chris served as a judicial extern in the United States Bankruptcy Court of the Central District of California and was a Senior Content Editor of the USC's Southern California Interdisciplinary Law Journal. Prior to beginning his career in the law, Chris worked as a project manager for a neuro-anatomy laboratory at UCLA and is an author on a scientific journal article published on his work. Chris believes that every client's situation is unique and requires a dedicated and thoughtful advocate to achieve the most beneficial and cost-effective solution. He also believes that the legal industry is first and foremost a client-service industry and he continually strives to be attentive and responsive to each client's specific needs.
