BIOGRAPHY

Kevin Hernandez is a Partner at Everett Dorey and a member of the General Liability Practice. He specializes in defending corporate clients in general liability matters, including personal injury claims and landlord-tenant disputes. He also handles and provides advice and counsel on school-accreditation matters. Mr. Hernandez also has experience representing clients in special education matters. Kevin attended UCLA School of Law as a recipient of the Simon Endowment Fund Scholarship. During law school, he clerked with Orange County Counsel and the Los Angeles Community College District and gained experience with juvenile dependency and education law.

Prior to attending law school, Kevin was a general and special education teacher. He has taught in underserved public charter schools in New York City with Teach For America and a private school in Orange County. Kevin earned his Masters of Science in General and Special Education at Bank Street College of Education in New York City while teaching full time.

Kevin enjoys spending his free time with his family. He also volunteers as a board member of TEACH Public Schools in Los Angeles, California
